

Has Your Home These Three Essentials?

It is what you put into the home that makes or mars its home-like atmosphere.

You must have real necessities that contribute to comfort.

You must have harmony between the various pieces of furniture.

You must have quality, which means service, returned for the expenditure.

In all these points of service, this store is particularly able to render the utmost. Whether your needs be that of a single piece or that of completely furnishing the home, you will find it worth while to inspect what we have to offer.

And now that fireside comforts are so emphasized by the season, it surely is the time to make the living-room pleasant to live in. We have just the things that will enable you to enjoy this room—from reading lamp to card or smoker's table.

Ours is just as much a store for those who want to see nice things as those who come to buy—for we are proud enough of our goods to gladly show them.

His place in the book store is filled by Newton Martin.

A fishing party consisting of H. G. Bennett, W. F. Harvey, B. A. Eastman and F. H. Rogers returned to the city Saturday, after a fortnight passed at the St. Bernard club in Canada. The sportsmen were uniformly successful in their quest of trout and some big game was observed in the wilder and more remote corners of the preserve.

The funeral of Said Corey, 20-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Corey, and until recently a resident of Barre, whose death occurred Thursday night, was held in St. Sylvester's church at Graniteville Saturday forenoon at 9 o'clock, the parish priest, Rev. Joseph Turcot, officiating. The bearers were Isaac Herbert, Charles Tony, A. S. Masse, Michael Masse, Edward Tash and Daniel John. There were many floral tributes. Interment was made in St. Sylvester's cemetery at South Barre.

On ground that formerly resounded to the steady thud of racing horses, one of the finest crops of potatoes to be seen anywhere in the vicinity of Barre, is ready for the harvest. W. Barclay Scott, whose farm adjoins the old course at Fairmount park, expects that his acreage will yield 350 bushels of tubers that defy competition as to size and quality. The farmer specialized in the Green Mountain variety, but his field will yield considerable quantities of strawberry potatoes and the Northern Grand variety. The field has had the benefit of intensive cultivation, although Mr. Scott ascribes his success to the fact that he got the jump on the bugs early in July.

Attractive Dress Values

While in the market last week, we were able to pick up some Wool and Silk Dresses in values and styles that are above the ordinary.

These are an All-Wool Botany Serge, made up in the latest style of the season. They are Dresses that are now priced at about the old prices. See this line of Dresses in our north show window.

These Dresses at only $14.00 and $15.00 each are values that we can give you for a short time only. They are made by a manufacturer who bought heavily of Serges before the great advance and is giving the trade the advantage of his foresight. When these cloths are exhausted, we will have to get the advance price on our duplicates. See these Dress values while the line is complete.

Ladies' Silk and Satin Dresses

In this Dress Sale which we are now displaying is a lot of Silk and Satin Dresses that are priced at much less than the price of Silk would warrant to-day. These are made from fine Taffeta Silk and Messalines, the styles are new, and you will find a large variety of individual models. These are values we will not be able to duplicate at the prices now offered. We are putting these out at the special prices of $15.00 and $18.00 each. When you figure the price of Silk to-day, you will hardly see how such a Dress can be made. These are real Dress values and will be picked up very quickly. See the line while your size is here.

Satin and Silk Skirts

We have just received a large line of Ladies' Silk and Messaline Skirts. These are mostly in Blacks, but there are a few colors. They are made in a variety of the season's best styles and are values that are exceedingly reasonable. When you figure the price of silks to-day and then see these Skirt values at $5.50, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50 to $16.50, you can realize what these Skirt values are. This is good, clean merchandise at a good saving in price to you. If you are to need a Skirt for the fall or winter wear, see this line of popular Skirts.

Many Blouses for the Economical

A war-time wardrobe may consist of many Blouses with a few Skirts, if the wearer is economical. Blouses are very essential for every lady, and none can have too many of these essentials. We are now showing a large line of Silks and Voiles in a variety of the season's best styles. We have another lot of those special Jap Silk Waists in White, Black and colors. These are Waists that launder like muslin and have an unusual amount of good wear in them. The price is only $2.00 each.

In Our Millinery Department

Our Millinery Department is now full of the season's new Millinery styles. The price is such as you will appreciate, and the quality is the season's best. We have new models now by nearly every express, and would be pleased to have you see the line while it is complete.

AMERICAN SHOUTED "LUSITANIA" ON ATTACK

Advanced in Waves Against the Germans After Terrible Bombardment Between St. Quentin and Le Catelet.

British Headquarters in France, Sunday, Sept. 29.—(Reuters).—Striking at the strong point of the Hindenburg line between St. Quentin and Le Catelet, British and American troops launched a terrific attack at 6 o'clock this morning. For eight hours before the infantry advanced against the German lines, the British artillery had maintained a terrific fire against the enemy positions. For the last two hours of this bombardment gas shells by the thousands were hurled against the Germans, causing a comparative silence to fall over the enemy lines. Last night a successful preliminary infantry attack developed between Marconing and Masnières against the main Hindenburg line. Under a creeping curtain of flames the main assault was launched this morning. A large force of American troops, shouting "Lusitania," advanced in the first waves with splendid dash.

A large number of tanks went out with the first wave, being directed against a front of 6,000 yards south of Vendhuile, where the St. Quentin canal passes through a tunnel.

Using the Vendhuile gap as a bridge, the Americans stormed forward, deploying fan-wise as they went. One British division swam across the canal. Then under steady machine gun fire they pushed forward into the village of Bellelie.

At 9 o'clock the prisoners were streaming back in droves. By this time first phase of the attack had ended, and after a pause the advance was resumed.

Then one of the most dramatic incidents of the battle occurred. The Americans, tired and beplashed, but in hearty spirits, opened their ranks and Australian units, moving up in support, swept through them and became the first wave of the renewed attack. The storm of cheering that greeted this manoeuvre rose above the roar of conflict.

There was hard fighting at many places where the Germans had established re-embankments of extraordinary strength. American battalions, which advanced so rapidly at first that some were checked by their own barrage fire, met with strong resistance. An immensely strong machine gun position at the entrance of the Subterranean canal was subdued by the aid of tanks.

New Zealand regiments drove a deep wedge into the enemy's line north of Cambrai and took one thousand prisoners. Canadians approached Hamillies, north of Cambrai, and at some points were astride the more important lines of communication. As the morning advanced it became clear that the battle was developing into a victory. Much of the personal equipment abandoned by the enemy appears to be quite new.

Le Catelet, the key position to the whole sector between Bellecourt and Banteux, was unofficially reported in allied hands by noon. The allies apparently are astride the St. Quentin-Cambrai railway at places, thus seriously restricting the enemy's communication.

Important fortified villages, including La Vaqueerie, Nauray, Bony and Villers-Guislain, were taken early in the battle. The effect of the terrific allied bombardment was everywhere visible.

On the Belgian front, Holthulst village, lost by a counter attack was retaken to-day by King Albert's troops. Staden has been taken and the whole Paschendale ridge system has been overrun. The Belgians counted more than 5,500 prisoners. On the St. Quentin front 4,000 Germans were captured.
